ABOUT THE VILLA SORGENFREI

The estate was built by the Gregory family between 1783 and 1789 as a vineyard and summer residence. Designed in the Saxon Late Baroque Zopfstil style (a transitional style between Rococo and Neoclassicism), it continues to captivate visitors with its historic wall paintings, exquisite interior details, and mature trees that create a uniquely peaceful atmosphere.

Since May 2015, the property has been welcoming guests as a hotel and restaurant under the management of Stefan Hermann. Guests can choose from fourteen individually designed rooms, two elegant suites, and our charming single room, "Gartenstübchen."
