Christmas carol singing with Mr Arnold Böswetter

Mr Arnold Böswetter, usually better known for his rambling stories than for his melodious singing voice, invites people to join him in singing Christmas carols every year during the Christmas market. At the Christmas fir tree, he sings the most beautiful songs of the Advent season together with the visitors and occasionally even gets carried away into a little dance. To the music of the "Elbzigeuner", the voices of young and old, Radebeul residents and guests unite to form a large, family Christmas choir.
