

The man in sunglasses

- Deutschland

Late-night escapades and morning espressos – the two Radebeul natives are doing everything they can to put on the show of their lives this Friday evening.

You don't even need to bring a good mood with you; it comes all of its own accord when you see the duo dancing about on stage.

But do look after your health! Because the hip-hop and the heavier bass lines from the man in sunglasses will completely drain your hard-earned reserves.
